

Brief of Work

My work is a dynamic drawing that explores the vibrancy of Central in Hong Kong. Through precise lines and intricate details, I captured the fusion of old and new elements within the cityscape. My work portrays the interplay between historical architecture and modern structures with a combination of bold and delicate strokes. The contrast between the two reflects the ever-evolving nature of Central and its rich cultural heritage. Additionally, the tangerines in the drawing add a touch of nostalgia and longing.

This artwork is a visual exploration that invites viewers to contemplate the complex layers of identity and the harmonious coexistence of tradition and modernity in Central.

Through my drawing, I aim to evoke emotions, stimulate reflection, and showcase the captivating spirit of this vibrant central business district in Hong Kong.
