

Brief of Work

In this artwork, the pair of eyes on the right belongs to the speaker, representing the curiosity and amazement of the girl. Those on the left are the grandfather's eyes. They carry his emotions and remembrance of his mother. Inside the nest, a mother bird is taking care of her baby and eggs. The scene visualises the experience and loss of maternal love deep in the grandfather's heart.

The artwork captures a moment of quiet contemplation of the grandfather and his connection with his grandchild, as they witness the nurturing love of the mother bird. While the artwork may not portray the idea of motherly love or the grandfather's remembrance of his own mother directly or explicitly, it serves as a visual representation of the tender moments shared across generations and the appreciation for motherly love in the natural world.
