

Selected Value: Unity and Commitment

Allegiance

A predator lurks increasingly close,
Leaving dead shells in its wake
Light cuts through, silencing their boasts.
Electric shimmers make them quake
Guarding our kin with all our might
Is our born instinct to protect and fight.
All of us as one, block them like a wall.
No matter what foe, big or small.
Comrades of mine will circle with caution;
Expel any prowler without exhaustion.
