

Selected Value: Unity and Commitment

Invisible Bonds

Upon the ice, where cold winds blow,
King Penguins in unity they shine and glow.
With tender care, they shelter their young,
In bonds of love, their legacy is spun.
Both parents share the weight of their role,
Taking turns to keep their chicks whole.
While one keeps watch, the other feeds,
With care and devotion, fulfilling their needs,
Through fierce blizzards and frozen tides,
They stand united, where love abides.
In every embrace, a promise is found,
To honour their kins, where love knows no bounds.
In every heartbeat, their promise is clear.
Commitment in hearts, forever held dear.
