The Jellyfish's Steady Beat

Just a pulse, soft and slow,
Everywhere they will go.
Little bell, light and bright,
Learning to move day after day.
You don't stop, even when you are tired,
Floating on, never expired.
In the clam, deep sea,
Swim along, don't ever sleep.
Hold on tight, keep your peace,
In the waves, find your place.
Slow and sure, you will go far —
Here's the light inside your star.
