The Tortoise's Trip

The tortoise's voyage, s l o w and steady,
With a BURDENSOME shell but a heart SO ready.
No need to hurry,
No need to run,
It believes in itself even when times aren't so fun.
Though small in size, its spirit is STRONG.
It doesn't give up even when the way is l o n g.
It doesn't fear what's coming later on:
So, hold your pace,
For s l o w and steady wins the race.
Just keep moving forward, from day to day,
And chase a l l your burdens far away.
