

Perseverance

Wings Against the Current

An intrepid penguin
Ventured through the roaring tides
To return to its home
In the icy Arctic

It braved the chilly mountains
And swam across the frigid sea
All in hopes of Returning to its family

After drifting along the bitter currents
The fearless penguin saw a terrifying sight
Its entire home Floundering in

 shat tered
 pi ec es
Oh how d o
 w n c a s t the bird was
To see its humble abode
In such a broken state
To see its family gone forever

But it was a determined little soul
The penguin decided to find a new shelter
A place to rest
And a place to nest

It searched far and wide
For the perfect place Until it stumbled upon a crystal berg
With a massive ice terrain

The penguin settled down
And had a family of hatchlings
They lived on peacefully
Leaving a lasting legacy