

Diligence

The Diligent Protector

Meerkat standing tall and alert.
What is it that you guard?
'Merely the burrow where I reside,
to keep my family safe inside!'

Catching a glimpse of movement,
a figure donning gold and brown.
'A foreboding sight, what could it be?
Perhaps a jackal to prey on me?'

Observe closely, that caramel dash,
its ears so sharp and long.
'No, wait! What is this?
A fennec fox, so small and meek!'

A false alarm, what a relief!
There is no danger, so you need not linger!
'I shan't rest. For our survival, I must remain vigilant!'
The little meerkat remains ever so diligent.
