

Perseverance

Unknown Journey

I'm going forward.

Above the surface, under the water in the cold,

My flippers push and push.

I'm going forward,

Swimming and pushing, turning around in the iceberg;

Battling the waves, punching through the waves — this is my adventure.

Push and push, I persevere.

My fatigue wants to hold me back, but

My mind wants to explore the unknown, and

My heart pulses me forward.
